Learning and Development Policy

Kestrel Data Labs Pvt. Ltd. (fictional company created for this project)

1. Learning budget

Every permanent employee has an annual learning budget of INR 50,000 per financial year for courses, certifications, conferences and books. Unused budget does not roll over to the next year.

2. Learning time

Employees may use up to 5 working days per year as learning days for approved training, in addition to annual leave.

3. Certification reimbursement

Professional certification exam fees are reimbursed in full on passing the exam, for certifications listed in the approved catalogue (for example cloud, data and security certifications). Failed attempts are reimbursed once.

4. Clawback

If an employee resigns within 12 months of a single learning expense above INR 25,000 being reimbursed, 100% of that amount is recovered from the final settlement. If they resign between 12 and 24 months, 50% is recovered.

5. Higher education sponsorship

Employees with at least 2 years of service may apply for sponsorship of a part-time degree, up to INR 2,00,000 per year, subject to a 2-year service commitment after completion.
