Remote and Hybrid Work Policy

Kestrel Data Labs Pvt. Ltd. (fictional company created for this project)

1. Working model

Kestrel Data Labs follows a hybrid working model. Employees are expected to work from their assigned office at least 3 days per week. Teams agree their common office days with their manager; Tuesday and Thursday are company-wide collaboration days on which all hybrid employees should be in the office.

2. Core hours

Regardless of location, employees must be available online during core hours of 11:00 to 16:00 India Standard Time (IST), Monday to Friday. Meetings should be scheduled inside core hours where possible.

3. Fully remote roles

A role can be designated fully remote only with approval from the department head and the Chief People Officer. Fully remote employees must still attend the office for the quarterly planning week.

4. Home office support

Hybrid and remote employees receive a one-time home office setup allowance of INR 15,000 for a chair, desk or monitor, claimable within the first 6 months of joining. Employees also receive an internet allowance of INR 1,500 per month, paid with salary.

5. Working from another location

Employees may work temporarily from another city in India with manager approval. Working from outside India is limited to 30 days per calendar year and requires prior written approval from HR and the Security team, because of tax and data-protection rules.

6. Security when working remotely

Remote work must follow the IT and Information Security Policy, including using the company VPN on any network other than a trusted home network.
